The nationally recognized Nurses for Newborns Foundation is going to be host to St. Louis' largest BABY SHOWER on May 16. 200 to 300 people will be converging upon the Nurses for Newborns' office with gifts for the babies NFNF serves.

Soon to be grandmother Gayle Birdsong turned the arrival of her new grandbaby into a mega baby shower for the organization. Enlisting doctors and nurses from Barnes Jewish Hospital and Childrens' Hospital, this baby shower is guaranteed to bring in much needed items for Nurses for Newborns.

Birdsong, who is currently battling a brain tumor, informed her friends she needed nothing for her new grandbaby, but that the babies at Nurses for Newborns were always in need of necessary supplies. The St. Louis community heard her call to action and will be bringing everything from diapers to formula on Sunday, May 16. Nurses for Newborns welcomes anyone to drop off diapers, formula or other baby supplies between 1:00pm-3:00pm on the 16th.

Opened in 1991, Nurses for Newborns Foundation exists to provide a safety net for families most at-risk in order to prevent infant mortality, child abuse and neglect by providing in-home nursing visits, which promote healthcare, education, and positive parenting skills.

The baby supplies collected will allow Nurses for Newborns to continue implementing their vital programs and serve the 4000+ babies they benefit.
